

Languages Passport Order Form

This Languages Passport has been adapted to a Canadian context from the Council of Europe's European Language Portfolio and is part of the Canadian Language Portfolio Project of the Institute for Innovation in Second Language Education (IISLE) at Edmonton Public Schools. It is used as a record of language skills, qualifications and experiences.

Languages passports have proven to be a highly effective tools for students, educators, post-secondary institutions and employers to support language acquisition and to communicate levels of language proficiency and intercultural experiences. This passport is based on the Common European Framework of Reference (CEFR), which provides common descriptors of levels of language proficiency. The CEFR is increasingly being used in many countries of the world, in both educational and workplace contexts, for describing functionality in language use.
