What is HSK?

HSK is the abbreviation of Chinese Pinyin: Hànyǔ Shuǐpíng Kǎoshì (汉语水平考试). It is a series of tests to assess the Chinese language proficiency of non-native speakers. HSK exams assess a candidate's ability to communicate and understand Chinese in educational and workplace contexts.

The HSK is referenced worldwide.

HSK Levels for all candidates:

HSK Level 1 (一级)

- Designed for students who have learned about 150 Chinese characters and who can understand and use some simple Chinese characters and sentences to communicate, and prepare them for continuing their Chinese studies.

HSK Level 2 (二级)

- Designed for students who have learned about 300 Chinese characters and who can use Chinese in a simple and direct manner, applying it in a basic fashion in their daily lives.

HSK Level 3 (三级)

- Designed for students who have learned about 600 Chinese characters and who can use Chinese to serve the demands of their personal lives, studies and work, and are capable of completing most of the communicative tasks they experience during their Chinese tour.

HSK Level 4 (四级)

- Designed for students who have learned about 1200 Chinese characters and who can discuss a relatively wide range of topics in Chinese and are capable of communicating with Chinese speakers at high standard.

HSK Level 5 (五级)

- Designed for students who have learned about 2500 Chinese characters and who can read Chinese newspaper and magazines, watch Chinese films and are capable of writing and delivering a lengthy speech in Chinese.

HSK Level 6 (六级)

HSK Level 7-9 (七-九级)

HSK/HSKK Certificates

All examinees receive a HSK/HSKK certificate in 2 months after the tests. The certificate is effective for 2 years starting from the test date.

Why take the HSK
